If a DAM employee believes, or DAM informs an employee, that DAM records are relevant to litigation or potential litigation (i.e., a dispute that could result in litigation), then that employee must preserve those records until the board determines that the records no longer are needed. The retention policy in this situation supersedes any previously or subsequently established destruction schedule for those records.

16.3. DAM may enter into fundraisers with other agencies or groups provided the financial conditions described in 16.2 are met.

16.4. Gifts. Members and other interested people are encouraged to donate to DAM. Donations may include money, property, equipment, services, and anything else consistent with DAM's purpose. Because DAM is a 501(c)(3) organization, gifts may be tax deductible, but DAM nonetheless encourages donors to obtain the advice of an independent legal counsel or tax professional with respect to any tax-related questions. Final decisions on the acceptance or refusal of a gift shall be made by the board.

16.4.1. DAM accepts restricted gifts. Where appropriate, DAM will enter into a written gift agreement with the donor that specifies the terms of any restricted gift. The terms may include provisions regarding donor recognition.

16.4.4. DAM shall not accept a gift unless the donor is responsible for (1) the fees of independent legal counsel retained by donor for completing the gift, (2) appraisal fees, (3) environmental audits and title binders (in the case of real property), and (4) all other third-party fees associated with the transfer of the gift to DAM.

16.4.5. DAM shall not accept gifts that could violate the terms of its organizational documents, jeopardize its status as an exempt organization under state or federal law, prove too difficult to administer, not further DAM's purposes, create a conflict of interest, or damage its reputation.

16.4.6. For non-cash gifts, to avoid any conflicts or potential conflicts of interest, DAM encourages prospective donors to seek the assistance of their own legal and financial advisors in matters relating to their gifts and the resulting tax and estate planning consequences.
